

ART WORLD

EDITORS' PICKS: 13 EVENTS FOR YOUR VIRTUAL ART CALENDAR THIS WEEK, FROM KOTA EZAWA'S 'NATIONAL ANTHEM' TO A TOUR OF EILEEN MYLES' ART

A selection of worthy online and IRL events to fill your calendar

Artnet News, June 29, 2020

Poet and author Eileen Myles. Photo courtesy Poetry Foundation.
[Image Description: Photographic portrait of Eileen in black and white, their hair is gray and layered to the shoulder, and they wear a gray shirt.]

“Performance in Place: From the Personal Collection of Eileen Myles” at the Rubin Foundation

If you’ve ever wanted to know what kind of artwork the one and only Eileen Myles actually lives with, your moment has arrived. The poet and writer will give viewers a candid walkthrough of the collection on view in their home in Marfa, Texas this Tuesday. The tour is designed to be highly personal, with Myles illuminating the works by discussing the personal relationships they built with the artists, including Robin Bruch, Xylor Jane, and Jack Pierson, as well as recounting specific memories from their own life pinned to the pieces and other objects in their home.

Price: Free with registration

Time: 8 p.m.

—Tim Schneider

You can read full article at artnet here.